The meeting of the Senate Interstate Commerce Commission today, engaged in its recess inquiry into the railroad rate situation, was principally an in-formal talk between the Senators and President Lucius Tuttle, of the Boston and Maine Railway, who answered some mony given last Thursday.

In the course of his statement Mr Tuttle denied that the railroads desire to concentrate traffic to few points for their own interests, and said it was more to the interest of the road to develop the greatest possible number of towns within a given territory.

Senator Carmack began the question was true that there is no fixed rule for making rates of railways, and the witness said such matters are left to traffic managers as they cannot be governed by any rule. He also agreed that a railroad is a natural monopoly, and that the old "rate wars" have ended between the roads.

He said he did not think the matter of competition between railways can be entirely eliminated, because the traffic conveniences of the country are too

Girl Offers Brother As Proxy at Hanging

She Says He Is "No Account" and Should Take Place of Condemned Bank Robber. Writes to the Governor.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 22 .- | Governor Folk has received the following letter from Rosedale, Kan.;

"Dear sir: My sister and I have decided that if you will exchange, we will let you take our brother and hang him, instead of "Bill" Rudolph, as our brother is no account, and never will be: and maybe Mr. Rudolph would be if you would give him a chance.

"Now, if you will pease exchange for our brother 'Jim.' let us knew through the newspapers, and we will be on hand for our man. Yours truly,

"Bill" Rudolph is a condemned bank robber, who killed Detective Schumacher while resisting arrest.

"We got his picture out of the papers and put it up in the parlor. We think he is a fine-looking young man. "Now, if you will please exchange for our brother 'Jim.' let us know through the newspapers, and we will be on hand for our man. Yours truly,
